

Jasmina Chuck (she/they)

Jasmina Chuck is a LGBTQ+ rights advocate, community organizing social worker, and intersectional equity educator who trains legal services and nonprofit organizations on cultural humility and methods to support LGBTQ+, marginalized and intersectional communities. She assesses organizational policies through a racial and LGBTQ+ equity lens and assists organization revamp, coordinate, and develop educational materials and staff resources to address systemic racism. Jasmina has worked in the nonprofit sector for over 10 years and provided over 100 diversity trainings.

Jasmina is a graduate Smith College and a Master of Social Work degree from Silberman School of Social Work.