ABOUT

High conflict custody cases are among the most difficult for lawyers and the court system to handle. They often are an enormous strain on both lawyers' and the court system's time, and emotional and financial strain on the parties involved.

This CLE will provide attendees with practical tips from experienced attorneys, GALs, parent coordinators and a judge on how to better deal with high conflict custody cases. Learn how to prepare your client for GAL investigations/evaluations, working with parenting coordinators and testifying at trial. Learn techniques for settling these cases, and if settlement cannot be achieved, for presenting the best case at trial as possible. Hear tips from the bench on what to do and what not to do when representing a client in a high conflict custody case.
